LIONS MEET BLUE IN DEN SATURDAY

Both To Battle For Victory In Armistice Day Contest

To Hold Final Workout For Game On South Field Friday

The morning train tomorrow will carry 24 members of the Blue and White team to New York City where they will meet the Columbia Lions in their den at Broadway and 110th Street on Saturday. Upon reaching the metropolis the team will go to the Hotel Cumberland where they will remain until Saturday noon. They will return to Middlebury on the sleeper, arriving here at 8 o'clock Sunday morning.

Coach Morey stated that it was doubtful whether Papke would be able to play Saturday, and it likewise is a question as to whether Novotny would be able to play. It is likely, however, that both Papke and Novotny will be able to play in the Vermont game next week. According to present plans the team will have its final workout before the game on South Field on Friday afternoon.

The New York Alumni Association have planned a luncheon for tomorrow noon at Stewart's on Park Place, to be addressed by Coach David B. Morey and others. Tomorrow night the team will be the guests of the Association at a theatre party.

"We're going down to make 'em travel," was the only statement Coach Morey would make this morning when the Saturday's go with the New York eleven was mentioned. He was confident that the team would do their best when they meet Coach O'Neill's heavy aggregation on South Field at 2 o'clock Saturday.

Lion's Prepare For Hard Battle

(Special to The Campus)

New York, Nov. 7—Signal drill comprised the bulk of the workout for the Columbia University eleven at Baker field this afternoon in preparation for the Middlebury battle on South Field Saturday afternoon. Although defeated by the heavy Cornell team by a 56-0 score last Saturday, Coach O'Neill's men are confident that they will be able to stop the fast Vermont aggregation.

The Lion gridiron team played some rather sensational football during the early part of the season, running roughshod over the Ursinus team from Collegeville, Pa., by a 48-7 score. The team, on this occasion, was working in mid-season form and seemed destined to upset all records for a Lion eleven. After the first few games the backs seemed to lose much of their smash and the line dwindled away. This fact was never more in evidence than at Ithaca last Saturday when the Cornell team triumphed.

In a broken field the contest will narrow down to a battle between Roderick, powerful backfield star of the Lion team, and Ashley, the mainspring of the Blue and White offense. If Roderick starts his line plunges, which worked so effectively against the other teams Columbia has played this season, it is doubtful if the Blue and White will be able to stop him. On the other hand if Ashley plays his customary game at left half, the result of the contest may be quite different. At any rate, the teams will be evenly matched, and the contest should be hard fought from the first whistle to the last.

The probable Columbia line-up for Saturday's contest is as follows: Bil-

In Flanders Fields

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly.
Scarce heard amongst the guns below.
We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved and now we lie
In Flanders fields
Take up our quarrel with the foe!
To you from falling hands we throw
The torch. Be yours to hold it high!
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields

TO HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICE NOV. 19

Governor-Elect Proctor To Unveil Tablet

Classes On Saturday—But Thanksgiving Will Be Holiday

While Middlebury will not officially celebrate Armistice day this coming Saturday, a service to the memory of the men who fell in their country's service during the World War will be held at the Vesper service, Sunday, Nov. 19. Dr. George W. C. Hill of New Britain, Ct., will deliver the main address. At the same time a memorial tablet will be unveiled by Governor-Elect Redfild Proctor, upon which is listed the names of the nine Middlebury men who died in the war.

Prof. Myron R. Sanford will read the Roll of Honor at the service, while Prof. Lewis J. Hathaway has arranged a special musical service, the choir to sing Scott's "Soldiers Rest." The program wil be in charge of President Paul D. Moody who will conduct the ceremonies.

In referring to the coming memorial service this morning, President Moody said that it had been chosen in preference to the Armistice Day program used last year, due to the fact that both Thanksgiving and Armistice day come so near together. Classes will be held all day Saturday, but Thanksgiving day has been declared a holiday.

CONTEST ENDS ON TUESDAY AT NOON

Only One Week Left To Enter Suggestions In Contest For Fay A. Evans Trophy

Only one week remains for those who intend to enter their suggestions in the contest for the Fay A. Evans trophy, which will be awarded either at the Rally Banquet to be held on the eve of the Vermont game or at the game on Nov. 18. Suggestions continue to pour into the Contest Editor, and for the past few days efforts have been made to group the various suggestions into their proper classes.

Even the alumni have taken an interest and during the past week several letters have been received. The contest has been limited, however, to regularly registered undergraduates, and so letters from alumni must be kept and entered, but they will not be eligible to compete in the contest, although

LACALLE LEAVES TO FOUND NEW SPANISH SCHOOL IN SPAIN

May Obtain Audience With King Alphonso

TO RETURN HERE EARLY IN JANUARY

Prize To Be Awarded To School's Best Student

Professor Moreno-Lacalle, Dean of the Spanish School, will leave Nov. 8 for an extended trip to Spain in the interests of the Middlebury Summer School to be opened in the city of Granada the coming summer. He will sail from New York Nov. 11 on the "Cretic" for Gibraltar. From there he will go directly to Granada to complete arrangements for the opening of the school. It is his intention then to visit Madrid in order to interview the prominent men of letters and art and arrange with them to lecture at Granada. While at the capital, Prof. Lacalle hopes to secure an audience with King Alphonso with a view to bringing to his attention the work of Middlebury College in Spain. He will leave for Paris the latter part of December and expects to return to the college early in January.

In opening the new school, Middlebury is continuing its policy of "immersion in the language" and will be

BLUE HARRIERS BOW TO DARTMOUTH TEAM

Outrun In Last Meet Of Season By Fast Green Outfit—Score 51-15—Win One, Lose Two Meets

The speedy Dartmouth harriers covered the three miles of the Dartmouth course at Hanover last Friday in 35 minutes and 37 seconds, defeating the local Cross-Country artists 51-15. Five of the Green runners crossing the line ahead of Cook '24, who lead the Middlebury team at the finish. It was evident that the Hanover men were not seeking to run up any great record for they seemed to wait for each other at the end and five of them crossed the tape line at the same moment. A sixth Dartmouth runner came next and Cook followed.

The course, although materially shorter than the local triangle, ran through the streets of Hanover and several of the local runners, not accustomed to such conditions, were hindered by the traffic. Another difficulty encountered by the Middlebury harriers was due to the fact that they went by motor from here Friday morning, and had to run shortly after reaching Hanover.

The summary:

First, Young, Osgood, Nazro, Winsor and Letteney—Dartmouth; sixth, Udall (D); seventh, Cook—Middlebury; eighth, Jerman (D); ninth, Kendall (M); tenth, Palmer (M); eleventh, Garrod (D); twelvth, Shelvey, (M); thirteenth, Robinson, (M); fourteenth, Cleveland, (M). Time 35:37. Cook's time 36:3 2-5.

The score:

Dartmouth	1	2	3	4	5—15
Middlebury	7	9	10	12	13—51

As this was Middlebury's last cross country meet, the Coach feels very pleased over the result. The team, he believes, has great promise and will undoubtedly show a much better brand of work next season. Middlebury lost to Williams, defeated Vermont and in the final meet lost to Dartmouth.

BLUE AND WHITE TEAM DEFEATS HEAVY TUFTS COLLEGE ELEVEN BY 6-0 SCORE BEFORE LOCAL FOLLOWING SATURDAY

Tally Comes Late In Second Period Following Drive From Visitors 47 Yard Line—Tyler Blocks Kick

VISITORS RALLY IN LAST PERIOD

Succeed In Keeping Ball In Middlebury's Teritory Throughout Quarter But Ashley Halts 'Em

Playing a brand of football the like of which they have not played before this season, Middlebury defeated the heavy Tufts College eleven on Porter Field last Saturday by a 6-0 score. The Medford outfit staged a rally during the last minutes of play that seemed destined to net them a touchdown, but the Blue and White defense stiffened and halted their attack. The playing of Ashley was the most spectacular that has been seen at any game this season and has resulted in his being recognized by all the large sport writers in the East.

At the beginning of the game it seemed as though the local outfit would be able to settle down to a pleasant afternoon at the Fall pastime. After two minutes of play Middebury had the ball on Tufts 19 yard line, but the Medford eleven's defense stiffened and held the Blue and White team for downs. Tufts fumbled the ball a moment later and "Rip" Gallagher recovered it. The ball was now on the Tufts 15 yard line. Seven plays brought it to within 2 and one-half yard from the goal. The heavy Medford team again held for downs and the ball started the other way.

The visitors were unable to make much progress during their offensive and usually punted. The ball seesawed back and forth for the remainder of the initial quarter and when the period ended was in Tufts hands on their 47 yard line.

The second quarter saw Coach Morey's wards come to life and march down the field for the only touchdown of the game. Playing the most successful overhead game they have attempted this season, the Blue and White eleven worked the ball to within the shadow of the goal making six first downs in covering the distance. Ashley dashed through the line, for the remaining 3 yards, and gave Middlebury her only tally. Tyler of Tufts blocked his kick from placement. The quarter ended a few moments later.

Coach Casey must have handed his men a line and a half for when they came out on the field at the beginning of the second half, they started right in to mess things up for the local outfit. Shades of the Williams game came over the field. But the Fighting Blue and White eleven dispelled every cloud by properly smearing play after play, during the third quarter. The ball didn't know where it wanted to go, for neither side attempted any long offensive.

In the last period the Medford crowd started things going their way. They kept the ball in the Blue and White territory throughout and never once failed to stop the long attempted plays of the local eleven. Starting fr their own 36 yard line, Tufts slo worked the ball up the field and

SOPHOMORE HOP TO BE HELD NOV. 29

Committee Member Predicts Frolic Will Be "Best Ever"

Orchestra To Be Selected Soon—Dance To Present Unique Entertainment

Amid deliberate consultations and careful inspections of "good old pal Tux," and such anxious queries as, "My dear, what are you going to wear?" comes the announcement that the Sophomore Hop is on the way. To be exact Nov. 29, is the date set for the annual frolic.

Just the mere mention of the fact will cause many little anxious hearts to wonder, and keep our friends the Hello-Girl busier than Billy Farrell. As a matter of fact 128 ring—,or 183 ring—, seems to be the "Open Sesame" of the gateway of Paradise for an evening of joy—and the night before Turkey Day is the night.

When interviewed by a Campus reporter, a member of the Hop Committee had this to say, "This year's affair will surpass anything ever set to music on our Campus. The dancers will glide to colorful music in a setting wild with color. The combination of black and white, which are the colors

ARMISTICE DAY

"Cease firing!" Over all the world
The swords are sheathed, the banners furled.
"The War is dead!" the nations sang;
Ten thousand thousand joy-bells rang!
Hosannas rose from every shore,
"Peace, peace is ours forevermore!"

Before the joyous shouting dies
Dark war-clouds gathered far and wide.
Men could not swiftly sweep away
War's desolating tempest-sway,
That down the ancient, wrathful years
Has held them captive to their fears.

In minds too young for enmity
There lies the way to make men free.
When children's friendships are world-wide
New ages will be glorified.
Let child love child, and wars will cease;
Disarm the hearts, for that is Peace.
—Ethel Blair Jordan.

The coming of Armistice Day brings to America and to the world the thoughts of war with all its attending horrors, and thoughts of peace with its many blessings. How people everywhere must rejoice on this day! It is truly another Thanksgiving day!

On Armistice day, a year ago, the people of America stopped to pay reverent homage to one of her sons, who had died for his country on the field of battle. While "Unknown," as to his name or as to his birth, he was "well known," because he was an American. He heard the call of service and he answered! He faced the enemy's fire, and like the great Savior of Mankind, he gave up his life that others might live, that peace might reign on the earth, and that brotherhood might predominate in the hearts of men.

We have referred to Armistice day as another Thanksgiving day in American life. It is more than that, for it is a Holy day! It is upon this day that our hearts and minds should center upon our obligation to our country and the world. It is upon this day that we should realize our duty as citizens of this great nation. It is upon this day that we should, as President Lincoln so beautifully expressed it, "consecrate our lives that these dead shall not have died in vain; and that [illegible]is nation under God shall have a [illegible] birth of freedom."

[illegible] was on Armistice day that Amer[illegible]nd the world were reborn. The great nations of the world, assembled at Washington saw the futility of armaments. They likewise realized that the limitation of naval armaments would, as Secretary of State Hughes recently said in his Boston address, "light the pathway for a world that is weary of war, and rescue the world from despair." What a blessing to mankind that America could take this forward step!

There is still, however, much to do. There is still a call to service for those citizens of our country who would seek to make her interests and ideals predominate in the world. May the students of America, the students whose ambition in life does not respond to the jingle of dollars, but instead to the call of duty as American citizens, lift high the torch—carrying forward the gospel of Peace on Earth, and Goodwill among all men.

SORORITY PLEDGING

The action taken by the Panhellenic Council in regard to sorority rushing and bidding this year, introduces a system which bids fair to be much more effective and more just than the old system has ever been.

First, the postponement of pledge day to a later date than any set heretofore, not only gives the freshmen a better opportunity to judge the different sororities and to make a wise choice, but it allows them time to form friendships and affiliations before they become connected with any group. Thus is fostered among the freshmen, a closer union and a better spirit of cooperation, independent of the sorority divisions.

Then, the preferential bidding, in providing that both the sororities and the freshmen who are to be pledged, make out lists of preferences and that one bid in accordance with these lists be sent to each girl, offers obvious advantages. Chief among these is the fact that no freshman knows which sororities bid her and no sorority knows the other and perhaps greater preferences of the girls who accept its bids

The establishment of this new system with its two chief innovations, is a real reform in the matter of sorority rushing and bidding. In view of the more just and more reasonable basis upon which it is founded, it cannot fail to be a successful one.

"A Good Time Was Had By All."

"Worcester Party in Newport Jail." —headline of a Vermont paper. Perhaps it was a surprise party or one of those B. Y. O. B. affairs—bring your own Bail.

Heard at the game Saturday while the Pee-Rade game was in progress—"They aren't really girls, are they?" And it was a full-grown adult at that!

That large schedule which is posted in the lower entrance of the Old Chapel should be a great help in assisting men to keep dates ahead for the informals as they are all listed.

It is too bad that the poor Frosh will have to wait until the 20th of December to go home. It would be altogether fiting and proper if those who were opposed to changing the date on this account would now come forward and lend their arms to the consolation of the poor children who are thus so rudely kept from their parents.

Don Tobin said that he saw "Sweed" Johnson at the game last Saturday and he described his meeting with the captain of the Vermont eleven as follows:

"Disguised with a big slouch hat and a student's note book, Captain Oscar "Sweed" Johnson of Vermont, occupied a commanding position on the outdoor blechers and tried to sketch Middlebury's plays on a fine grade of white paper. After the game the Swede's attempts at paper formations were found under the bleachers. The marks closely resembled flashes of lightning spreading all over the horizon and across the bottom was inscribed in his well-known hand, 'What's the use, can't follow 'em, too d—— fast.'"

The old timer will have to say the same thing when the fast Middlebury backfield starts working a week from Saturday.

And some people still seem to think that this Vermont Outfit has a chance to defeat Middlebury when they meet on N-O-V-E-M-B-E-R 18.

But then—
You never can tell!

RALLY BANQUET TO BE HELD NOV. 17

Invitations Sent To Alumni—"Mother" Mason To Furnish Eats

Speakers for the Rally Banquet to be held in the McCullough Gymnasium on the eve of the Vermont-Middlebury game have not as yet been obtained, according to an announcement made this morning by Joseph Timberman '23, chairman of the Rally Banquet Committee. It is hoped that certain of the alumni, prominent in football in particular and athletics in general, will be able to return, and Chairman Timberman is relying upon this group to fill the bill as far as speaking is concerned.

Invitations were mailed to every alumnus yesterday requesting their presence at the festivities on Nov. 17. It is expected that in view of the fact that Middlebury has made such a remarkable showing in football this year, and likewise the University of Vermont, that many who did not come last year or the previous year, will be here for this event.

"Plans are being made to provide for the entertainment of the alumni who plan to be here for the game at the various fraternity houses and at Hepburn Hall," said Mr. Timberman this morning. "With the state championship to be decided, with Middlebury's traditional game with Vermont slated, and with a chance to help the team to victory, we are sure that alumni, faculty and students alike will attend and thus show their support of the team. If they will do their part, the team cannot help from doing their best."

Tickets for the banquet will be placed on sale in the near future, the price being $1.50 each. The catering, as in former years will be done by Mrs. Maud O. Mason.

German Club Holds Party

The "Deutscher Verein," formerly known as the German Club, held its first gathering of the year on Hallowe'en night. The meeting soon assumed the spirit of the occasion, and when Fraulein Schuller came forth in the garb of one of those sprites that used to infest Old Salem Town, she caused many wild guesses as to her identity. Conspicuous among the others in costume was Mildred Jenkins '22, who came out in a tough's attire with a swaggering appearance that would have done justice to a Broadway beau.

German was spoken throughout the evening, and some of the feeble and funny attempts at expression brought howls of laughter. German folk songs were sung, among which "Roslein auf de Heide" proved the most popular. It is planned to hold two business meetings a month hereafter and social gatherings at various intervals as announced.

Francis M. Peck '71 Dies

News has just been received of the death of Mr. Francis M. Peck, of the class of 1871, in Philadelphia, N. Y., on August 29 last. The death of Mr. Peck, with that of Mr. A. Barton Hepburn a few months before, reduces the number of living members of the class of 1871 to 5. It will be remembered that this class pledged $100,000 toward the endowment fund.

Death of Fifty Year Graduate

A letter was recently received by the College announcing the death in California last March of John A. Haig, Superintendent of Schools at Devil's Lake, N. D. Mr. Haig was one of four surviving members of the class of 1873, which is to hold next June its fiftieth reunion. He was a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

Miss Emily Hobbs '23, was elected secretary of the eastern section of the Athletic Conference of American College Women at the convention of this organization held in Ithaca last week.

HICKCOX '26, WINS NET CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeats Krichbaum '24, Former Champion In Finals—Game Hard Fought Throughout

"Eddie" Hickcox '26, won the recent tennis tournament, defeating George Krichbaum '24, by a 7-5, 6-1, 6-7 score in three sets. The first set started with Krichbaum two games in advance, but Hickcox soon overcame this lead and from then on to the end of the series the result was never in doubt. The sportsmanship displayed by the victor throughout the game was spectacular.

It was interesting to note that at the outcome of the contest, both players entertained good feeling toward each other. When Hickcox scored the final point, Krichbaum walked over and congratulated the new champion There were no hard feelings. There was simply mutual high regard on the part of the one player for the other.

"He's the gamest and sportiest little player I've ever met," was Krichbaum's comment.

"George gave me the hardest battle I've had for the title, and he plays a fine, clean game," was the new champion's way of looking at the thing. At any rate it was a great tournament, over thirty participating in the four classes. The result, strangely enough, was the same as that of two years ago, when Krichbaum, then a freshman, defeated all comers. The former champion has been defeated. A new champion takes his place. It is "Eddie" Hickcox '26!

REV. H. S. BEUHLER SPEAKS AT VESPERS

"The Building of Character," Subject of Sermon

Speaker Takes Story of the Rich Young Ruler As Text

"The Building of Character," was the subject of the vesper sermon delivered by Rev. H. C. Beuhler of the Hotchkiss School, Lakeville, Ct., last Sunday. He took as his text that portion of the tenth chapter of Mark, dealing with the story of the rich young ruler.

Rev. Beuhler said first that characters are much like the great unfinished cathedral at Cologne. They are beautiful, pure, and complete near earth, but as they get nearer the sky, the work is incomplete and ugly in its incompleteness. This, he said was the character of the rich young ruler.

"There are three things to be considered in regard to the lesson of this young man," said the speaker, "what he wanted, what he got, what he lacked. Like any youth, he came eagerly, wanting what he wanted at once. He was ambitious and had as his ideal that of everlasting life. He realized he was in the world to help God, he wanted to build his life as a beautiful temple to Him, and he did not know how to do it.

"Secondly, this young man had already achieved much. He had been endowed with strong character, healthy mind, and a deep religious belief. He had builded well, and was approved by God and man. But over all his beauty of life and purpose was thrown the lustre of wealth.'

"Finally," he said, "it was his lack of the spirit of self sacrifice that prevented the young ruler from immediately realizing the attainment of his ideal. It is all right for him to be rich, but if he is selfish with his wealth, he is failing before God. A character must be complete in God's eyes," concluded the speaker, "or it is worth little, and to be complete it must be filled with self sacrifice and self renunciation."

NOTE COLLEGE EVENTS ON NEW BULLETIN BOARD

Two new bulletin boards appeared Monday afternoon at the lower entrance to Old Chapel. The one on the left contains a Calendar of College Events for the year 1922-23, while the other is for daily notices and posters. Both of these bulletin boards are strictly official and are under the direct supervision of Miss Eaton, secretary to the President.

The purpose of the Calendar is to show just what is coming and when. It is hoped thus to avoid conflicts and to have dates of important events set as early as possible. Everyone is requested to give their dates to Miss Eaton at the earlict possible moment.

RALLY TONIGHT IN GYM FOR GAME WITH COLUMBIA

A rally will be held in the McCullough Gymnasium tonight at 6.45 p. m., due to the fact that the team leaves on the morning train tomorrow for New York. It is hoped that undergraduates will turn out in such a way as to fully demonstrate to the members of the team that they are supporting them. The team will return on the sleeper Sunday morning.

Edgar T. Austin '24, was elected president of the Apollo Club at its first meeting this year, held in the Old Chapel, last Friday afternoon. Miss Beulah Scott '23, was elected vice-president, while Miss Dorothy Newton '23, was chosen as secretary. 50 attended the meeting. Prof. Myron R. Sanford acted as chairman during the election.

Reba Maxfield '23, Pearl Blackburn '23, Edna Volin '24, Clarence Bottsford '24 and George Tully '24, were chosen to arrange the program for the coming year and to arrange for the frequency of meetings.

From The Sidelines

Wonder what Eddie Casey will have to say about Dave Morey's men now that he has had actual experience with them.

It is hard to tell whether the co-eds were more interested in the varsity game or the farcity game.

We heard one remark at the informal that she thought the male vs. female game had the other beat a mile.

Probably she had more or less of her clothes engaged somewhere in the conflict.

The game had all the aspects of a big college tilt with the press tables on the sidelines and a large corps of assistants at work.

We expect to hear of "Stan" Ashley working as a demonstrator for a tractor concern after graduation. He sure tears up the ground around here.

Its getting to the point where "touchdown" and "Stan" are synonymous terms.

Potter may not be a star but he has a lot to do with keeping the constelation intact.

SELECT FOUR TO DEBATE SYRACUSE HERE NOV. 23

Edgar T. Austin '24, William H. Lawton '23, Philip M. Toleman '24, and Max M. Savitt '25, were chosen, following try-outs, last Wednesday evening to represent Middlebury in the debate with Syracuse University on Nov. 23. The event will probably be held in the Mead Memorial Chapel. The Wetherell Club deferred action in regard to a freshman debate with the Utica Free Academy until after the clash with Syracuse. This was done in order to center the whole effort of the club on the first debate of the year.

Foster in Sun Praises Blue's Record For 1922

Says Middlebury Team Will Go Down In 1922 History As Team That Could Give And Take

That Middlebury, by her success this season, has made a notable record, is clearly shown in comments by John B. Foster in the New York Sun last week. While he does not think that Middlebury will win any championships this year, still he says that her record "will go into 1922 history as an eleven that could give and take." Mr. Foster's comments are printed here.

"One of the Williams players said the hardest team that they had faced this year was Middlebury. When you look at the Middlebury score you find evidence that they can fight. The first game was 20—0 in favor of Harvard. The second was 14—7 in favor of Williams. The third was 21—0 in favor of Dartmouth. The fifth was 33—0 in favor of Penn State.

"There's a tale in those figures. Dartmouth was one better against Middlebury than Harvard and Penn State was better against them than either Dartmouth or Harvard. Middlebury had little hope of winning any one of the games except possibly that against Williams, yet it commanded the respect of every team playing against it and particularly gave Williams a battle. Middlebury won from Norwich 20—0, showing that when it came into contact with a team against which it could show a balance of power it was what other elevens maintained for it. Middlebury will win no championship, yet it will go into 1922 history as an eleven that could give and take."

N. E. COLLEGES MEET AT WILLIAMS

President And Dean Represent Middlebury

Error In Report Last Week That Conference Made Athletic Changes

Nothing of a decisive nature was transacted at the 64th annual meeting of New England colleges held last week at Williams College, at which Middlebury was represented by President Paul D. Moody and Dean E. J. Wiley. The meeting was purely informal in conformity with the usual custom of the association. No legislative action was taken, it being simply a clearing-house for ideas regarding the policies and administration of New England colleges, for the most part men's colleges, of which fourteen were represented.

A great variety of matters was discussed, such as limitation of attendance, transfers, compulsory chapel, entrance and mid-year examinations, and activities. The conference occupied an afternoon, evening, and the following forenoon. Each college sent two delegates, one of which in most cases was the President of the college. Three years ago the annual meeting was held at Middlebury, and next year it will convene at Yale. Middlebury will again be the host of the association in 1933.

The statement in the Campus last week to the effect that this conference is the same which made such radical changes in athletics last spring, should be corrected, since the two have no connection.

MIDDLEBURY DEFEATS TUFTS COLLEGE ELEVEN BY 6-0

making three first downs they had placed the ball on Middlebury's 16 yard line. During the advance a rather odd forward pass was witnessed, which aided by Madame Jinx, helped the visitors on three occasions. Etelman, star quarterback would attempt a pass. A Middlebury man in each instance touched it and it bounded up into the air, only to be recovered by a Tufts man.

The most sensational play of the game with but three minutes to play. came when Etelman attempted a pass from Middlebury's 16 yard line, trusting probably to Madame Jinx to pull him through. Ashley, playing back, covered the ball and the Medford Collegian's rally died. The ball was brought to the Middlebury 20 yard line. The Blue and White team attempted another drive toward the Tufts goal, but the game ended just as the ball reached center field.

Ashley played the stellar role for the local team and continued his sensaional line dashes and end runs. Etelman was the leading offensive man for the visitors, displaying remarkable strategy in his steering and also in his accuracy in passing. Papke who was injured during the first few minutes of the second quarter will be taken to New York for treatment. He has been treated by local doctors during the past week. Coach Morey plans to have him thoroughly examined upon reaching New York, and he thinks that he will be able to play in the Vermont game. "Joe" Novotny has recovered sufficiently from his injuries and it is thought that he will be ready to meet U. V. M. when they invade Porter Field a week from Saturday.

The winning selection will be announced to the Contest Editor who will in turn announce the name of the winner. The cup will be awarded by President Moody.

All suggestions should either be turned in to the Campus Office box, or else mailed to The Contest Editor, The Middlebury Campus. Get your suggestions in early and avoid that last minute rush!

Spanish Club Gives Farewell Party To Professor Lacalle

Despite many conflicting engagements of last Friday night, quite a large number of Spanish students attended the farewell party tendered Professor J. The Club held its entertainment at seventhirty in the Music Studio.

The program was as follows:

1. Farewell address, Dr. Primitivo Sanjurjo.
2. Violin and piano selection, Misses Beryl and Madeline Gaylor.
3. "El Sapo Enamorado," (The Frog in Love)—comedy.
   Prologue
   Act I.
4. Spanish piano selections, Miss Dorothy Parsons.
5. Act II. of the comedy.
6. Galician song, Miss Beryl Gaylor.

Following the entertainment, punch and wafers were served.

Mrs. Paul Dwight Moody and Dr. E. D. Collins were among the invited guests present.

Dean Batchelder '74, Dies

News has just been received at the college of the death on September 11, in St. Paul, Minnsota, of Dean Loren H. Batchelder of Hamline University, a graduate of Middlebury College in the Class of 1874.

Dean Batchelder had long been an outstanding figure in the educational history of Minnesota and the Northwest. A Vermonter by birth, he practiced law in New Jersey a few years after graduation, but in 1883 became professor of Chemistry and Physics in Hamline, where he remained until his death.

The death of Dr. Batchelder leaves but one surviving member of the Class of 1874.

of the Soph Class, should work-up into something at once delightful and beautiful.

"The plans call for something absolutely unique in, between dancing, entertainment. The details, however, are a secret. As yet the orchestra has not been decided upon, but from the way various orchestras are bidding for the job, it seems only logical to say the music will be the grandes' ever. Taken, all in all, the dance this year promises to be snappier, and peppier than anything since Gamaliel Painters' undergraduate days."

$1,500 Raised By Committee For Cage Fund-Seek $8,000

Hope To Have Sufficient Funds To Start Construction Work At Once —Plan Drive To Reach Goal

In spite of the efforts made last year in the drive to raise sufficient funds to erect an athletic cage, only $1,500 has been realized to date, this amount being in the form of pledges from the student body, according to a statement made this morning by Charles L. Leonard, Jr., '23, Chairman of the Cage Fund Committee. In order that sufficient funds may be raised to warrant the starting of the construction on the cage it will be necessary to have pledges of at least $5 from each student. To aid in raising the fund, social affairs are being held, the proceeds being turned over to the Committee in charge of the drive.

The cost of the proposed cage will be in the neighborhood of $8,000, according to Mr. Leonard, and it is thought that if the student body is able to raise $2,500 of the amount, that the remainder of the necessary funds may be secured by alumni subscriptions. The immediate necessity of raising this fund is to have the money ready so that the construction of the cage may be begun as soon as possible, probably in time to give the 'varsity team a little practice before the opening of the coming baseball season.

"If the students of Middlebury want to see the team succeed in the heavy baseball schedule they are bound to have this coming season, a pledge of $5 will be necessary all along the line," said Mr. Leonard this morning. "These pledges will have to be ready as soon as the drive opens so that the hopes of having a cage won't hang over for another year. The committee hopes that everyone will catch the spirit of the drive and back it to such an extent that it cannot help being successful."

Y. W. C. A. Party

The usual Hallowe'en horde of witches, ghosts, clowns, farmerettes, Spanish ladies, gypsies and sheiks invaded Pearsons Hall at seven-thirty last evening. The new members were initiated into the mysteries of the "ghost walk" while the others visited the fortune tellers and "bobbed" for apples. Refreshments of cider and doughnuts were served and the evening closed with the telling of ghost stories.

English Club Elects Miss Thompson '23, President

Miss Gladys R. Thompson, '23, was elected president of the English Club at the first meeting of the year last Thursday evening. Other officers elected were: Edwin J. Klock '23, vice-president; Miss Elizabeth M. Jacobs '23, secretary-treasurer; and Mr. William A. Huggard '20, faculty advisor.

It was decided to have the regular meetings of the Club on the first Thursday of the month, the next meeting to take place the 16th of November. The year's program has for its general title "Some Books Worth Knowing." At each meeting it is planned to discuss some book such as Pepy's Diary, the Bible, or Cyrus Hamlin's "My Life and Times."

Mr. John Wright and Professor Porter G. Perrin, the two new members of the English faculty, introduced themselves to the Club by reading original articles, both of which have already been published. Mr. Wright read his "Something To Laugh About;" and Professor Perrin his "Shakespeare from the American Viewpoint." In addition, Chester R. Corsen '23, the retiring president of the Club, presented Stephen Leacock's "The Retroactive Existence of Mr. Juggins."

Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Walch of Waterbury, Ct., announce the birth of a son, Harold Gray Walch on Sept. 13. Mr. Walch is a member of the Class of 1913. He is now teaching in the Crosby High School.

Prof. Abbott Speaks At Y. W.

Professor Charles F. Abbott gave the opening talk of the series to be delivered upon "The World Christian," in the Y. W. C. A. room last night. His subject was "Ideals of Progress" and he showed, by tracing the history of the nations, how most of their ideals had failed and how quickly they had come to ruin through them. He said that there were indications that America and the world was reaching just such a crisis if the present ideals were persisted in. He gave christianity and the practice of its ideals, by nations as well as by individuals, as the only hope which can save the world from ruin and chaos.
